VALERIE ROY ... (many know her as Valerie Sneade) ,, is a native of Grafton, Massachusetts. Valerie is a formidable singer with a giant voice when she chooses to call upon it. She has an impressive vocal range and sings a wide range of material ranging from pop, rock, R&B, country, big band, show tunes and so much more. Her vocal is eclipsed ONLY by her amazing connection with an audience.

Valerie has performed nationally in a variety of concert venues and theatres in both a concert format and theatrical settings. Valerie has performed in close to 40 of the states. Some of the highlights of her career were singing at The Grand Ole Opry and Graceland. She has also been the opener for The Four Aces, Al Martino and a variety of Vegas and Broadway stars.

She is an IRNE and Donnie award-winning artist and singer. She has also worked extensively on the production/producer/presenter side of things and created, owned, and operated a successful production company since the '90s' out of, MA, FL and NC. It is for this reason that presenters love to work with her because she understands the business and "behind the scenes" aspect of performance.

Valerie is a former member of AEA (Actor's Equity Association) and a featured soloist with a variety of symphonies with three fully orchestrated symphonic shows.

After years of being on stage for over 30 years, Valerie's biggest claim to fame is marrying "the love of her life", Jason Tyler Roy, on 12/27/19 at The Dunkin' Donuts in Worcester, Massachusetts. The romantic "second time around" love story caught the attention of Good Morning America and went viral internationally. Playing the wife of Jason and stepmom to her stepson, Jeffrey, is Valerie's favorite role to date.
